HARDING DISCUSSES BUSINESS CONDITION WITH 21 BANKERS

AT DINNER GIVEN AT THE WHITE HOUSE LAST NIGHT—SECY'S HOOVER AND MELLON WERE PRESENT
RAYMOND CLAPPER,
(U. P. Staff Cor.)

Washington, June 24—Measures to lift American business out of its slump were considered by President Harding and twenty-one bankers at a White House dinner which lasted until 1 a. m. today.

The bankers, it was said, will meet with railroad heads shortly in an effort to agree upon a plan to revive the national carriers from bankruptcy.

Almost every angle of the business situation was talked over during the five-hour session which began when the bankers sat down in the great state dining room at eight o'clock last night.

Among the topics discussed were: Prospects of collecting the money loaned the allies during the war.

Methods of putting railroads on their feet without government help.

Easy money for the farmer.

Financing of cotton growers.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Hoover were present and spoke.

President Harding also outlined to the bankers some of the problems he is facing and the difficulty that stands in the way of their solution.

Among the guests were George H. Prince, chairman of the Merchants National Bank of St. Paul, and John W. Barton of the Metropolitan National Bank of Minneapolis.

Prompt Payment to Railroads

Washington, June 24—Prompt payment of the government debt to the railroads resulting from operation is necessary to revive the national transportation and general business, according to views given President Harding by western bankers it was learned.

LaFollette Want to Investigate System of Naval Discipline

(By United Press)
Washington, June 24—A congressional investigation of the system of naval discipline was asked in a resolution by Senator LaFollette today.

The resolution refers to the removal of Captain O. D. Stearns, from command of the battleship Michigan, from a committee of men to help decide on discipline aboard the vessel.

Kiwanis Elect Baltimore Attorney as Its President

(United Press)
Cleveland, June 24—Harry E. Karr, Baltimore attorney, today was elected international president of the Kiwanis club at the annual convention here. Karr received 490 votes while his opponent Colonel J. L. McCulloch of Marion, Indiana, received 128.

Toronto, Canada, was chosen as the 1922 convention city of the club.

WHEN ORDERED TO HOLD UP HIS HANDS AND THIS PREVENTED ROBBERY

(United Press)

Green Bay, Wis., June 24—A good left hook placed squarely on the jaw saved the bank of Spring Valley from being robbed by a yeggman.

Claud J. Gallagher, cashier of the bank, was ordered to hold up his hands by a lone yeggman Thursday. He delivered the hook and sent the man rolling to the ground and afterward took him over to the sheriff's office.

Gallagher is a former football star of the Green Bay high school. The yeggman said his name was John Hubert and said he was a farm hand.

SPEEDER FINED JUST THE SAME

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 24—By the small margin of one mile an hour Patrolman Robert Cooper missed winning an automobile from M. A. Wiltzie, alleged speeder.

Wiltzie was indignant in court. He told the judge his "old bus" could not get thirty-five miles out of her," said patrolman alleged.

"I will give it to anyone who can get thirty-five miles out of her," said Wiltzie.

The judge ordered the test. The patrolman could not get but thirty-four miles out of the old bus but the judge fined Wiltzie anyway.

Wisconsin Dry Bill Goes to Governor

(United Press)

Madison, Wis., June 24—The compromise dry enforcement bill was sent to Governor John J. Blaine for his signature this afternoon. The senate passed the measure eighteen to six. The assembly had voted favorably earlier in the day.

(United Press)

Washington, June 24—Admiral Wm. S. Sims was to see Secretary Denby today. Shortly after Denby is expected to announce what, if any, action he will take against Sims for the admiral's London speech in which he attacked Irish sympathizers here.

A. F. L. ELECTION OF OFFICERS POSTPONED

WAS SCHEDULED FOR THIS AFTERNOON, BUT OFFICIALS RULE IT MUST BE THE LAST BUSINESS

BY J. L. O'SULLIVAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Denver, Colo., June 24—Election of officers, which had been scheduled for this afternoon, was postponed today by the American Federation of Labor. Officials ruled that in accordance with the constitution the election must be the last matter of business to come before the convention. The election will be held tomorrow night or early next week.

With Samuel Gompers taking the offensive in his battle to retain leadership of the federation, his opponent for the presidency John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, was expected to issue a statement on his position.

In a speech late yesterday Gompers declared that Wm. Randolph Hearst, a newspaper publisher, is responsible for the campaign to prevent his election. He said Hearst was trying to "get him" because he had not supported Hearst's efforts to bring about an American invasion of Mexico.

Federation Proceedings

The contest for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor became so hot today that President Samuel Gompers was forced to warn against electioneering by federal organizers.

Gompers stopped the proceedings of the convention when half a dozen campaign conferences were held in various parts of the convention hall and said:

"I am informed that some organizers of the convention are interfering with the election of officers. No organizer has the right to espouse the candidacy of anyone."

The convention agreed that the election which will settle whether Gompers or John L. Lewis shall lead the labor movement, will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Endorsement of the Sheppard-Towner bill was voted by the labor leaders.

The convention urged the government to place restriction on naval yards and arsenals preventing employment of aliens.

Federal control of railroads, and development of the country's natural resources was urged in resolutions adopted.

Six Hour Day Received Little Support

A proposed campaign to bring about a six hour day with eight hours pay at the present received little support in the convention of the American Federation of Labor today.

Resolutions favoring shortening the working day to six hours with eight hours' pay were voted down after a short debate.

Backers of the measures declared that they believed shortening of the hours of work would solve the unemployment question. A resolution presented by the Seattle labor union advocating not only a six hour work day but elimination of all overtime was voted down without a single supporter.

A. C. Hay, of the railway clerks, and C. F. Gray, of the machinists, advocated passage of another resolution placing the federation on record for a six hour day with eight hours pay.

The report of the committee on short workday declared that while the whole labor movement aimed to curtail the hours of labor they don't believe that business conditions were right now to force the six hour day with eight hours pay. The report was then adopted.

Mexican Troops Sent to Crush Reported Uprising

(United Press)

Mexico City, June 24—Mexican regular troops were rushed to the state of Vera Cruz from Hidalgo today to end a threatened uprising.

The rich oil lands of southern Mexico were believed to be menaced by General Castulo Perez against whom the troops were marching in Vera Cruz. In Hidalgo the regular forces were ordered to disarm and muster out state militia which has failed to cooperate with the state regular forces.

Strike Breakers Framed Dynamite Explosion

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 24—The attempt to dynamite a Summit avenue rooming house was framed by professional strike breakers, Chief of Police Crapau said today. He said investigation proved that three strike breakers who live at the place decided to dynamite the house to throw discredit on unionists.

Motorcycle Patrolman John Allan was notified and threw the stick of dynamite into the street where it exploded.

Girl Wife Gets Husband's Estate; Had Not Seen Him for 38 Yrs.

(United Press)

St. Paul, June 24—Mary Speiss had not seen her husband for thirty-eight years, but today was awarded his $75,000 estate in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Speiss alleged her husband deserted her when she was only fifteen years old—shortly after they were married.

Anna Barbara, whom George Speiss married after he had deserted the slip of a girl, will not get one cent of the estate. She said she never knew her husband had been married before.

Speiss died three years ago. The supreme court upheld the Hennepin county court and awarded Mary Speiss the estate.

Duke of Marlborough Weds Second American Girl

(By United Press)

Paris, June 24—Miss Gladys Deacon of Boston, today became the Duchess of Marlborough. The civil ceremony wedding her to the Duke of Marlborough took place at the British consulate. It took three minutes for the Consul General H. G. Mackie to read the services and the witnesses to fix their signatures on the certificates.

Miss Deacon was dressed in a blue street dress with a blue cape and a large blue transparent hat with red roses.

TWO MURDERERS HANGED IN CHICAGO

FOR SHOOTING YOUNG SOLDIER WHO RESENTED BURNING OF FLAG

(United Press)

Chicago, June 24—Two murderers of a sailor who was slain in attempting to prevent an American flag being burned, were hanged here today.

The state avenged the death of Robert L. Ross, young sailor when the noose was slipped around the necks of Grover Redding and Oscar McGovick and the trap sprung.

A plot was discovered to attempt to restore the spark of life to the executed murderers.

Jailor Lorenz Messerlein, who discovered the plot, ordered the dead bodies of the two hanged men to be held in jail for two hours after the execution.

The plot, he said, was to rush the bodies of the murderers to an undertaking room immediately after execution, and apply hot blankets and pulmoters in an effort to restore life.

Rose was killed in the bloody riots here a year ago.

Redding and McGovick, both colored, attempted to foment rebellion among the blacks in this country and lead them back to Abyssinia.

An anti-American demonstration was staged during which the American government and its institutions were ridiculed. The climax of the demonstration came when Redding and McGovick unfurled an American flag, threw it on the ground and applied a torch. Rose, in uniform, rushed from the sidewalk and commanded, "Don't."

Several shots were fired. Rose's body fell across the burning flag.

Redding and McGovick, who throughout the trial and in the death chamber, maintained an attitude of bold bad men, lost their composure on the way to the gallows. They whimpered and whined at the ropes.

Propose to Cut Live Stock Commission Rates

(United Press)

St. Paul, June 24—The state railroad and warehouse commission today proposed to cut livestock commission rates approximately one-third in Minnesota.

Livestock men, headed by N. E. Rogers, of South St. Paul, protested against the plan at formal hearings. Rogers said the reduction would put many livestock commissionmen out of business and throw employees out of work.

The rates proposed by the commission are similar to those announced in 1919 but ruled invalid by the supreme court. At the time the federal rates were held to supersede state rates but federal rates are no longer in effect.

LATE BULLETINS

Rainmaker Hatfield Must Make Good

Medicine Hat, Alberta, June 24—Rainmaker Hatfield, of California, has just one more chance to make good with the farmers of Medicine Hat, and if he produces a real honest-to-goodness rain within a week he probably can be elected to parliament on the farmers' ticket. But if he fails he probably will abandon his rain making tower on Chappie lake and depart between suns for rains are badly needed in this area if the crops are even to be average.

During the early part of May, Hatfield was an uncrowned king. Rain fell so much that the farmers asked him to turn it off.

Continuance Denied

Bismarck, N.D., June 24—Judge W. L. Muesel today denied a plan for continuance of the case against J. W. Brinton charged with perjury and ordered the trial to proceed.

Brinton testified before a legislative hearing in regard to finances of the State Bank of North Dakota, some of the state institutions and the nonpartisan league.

C. E. Convention

Wilmar, June 24—Miss Margaret Bradt, of St. Paul, was given an ovation by the state Christian Endeavor convention last night. She is retiring after three years' service as state field secretary to become religious director of the First Presbyterian church at Fargo.

Officers of the society of Christian Endeavor will be elected at the closing session Saturday morning. The convention will adjourn Sunday night.

Peggy Was at Stillman Parties

New York, June 24—The name of Peggy Hopkins Joyce will be brought into the Stillman divorce case when the hearing is resumed at Poughkeepsie next week.

The slow girl, now being sued for divorce in Chicago by her third millionaire husband, will be described as a guest of Mrs. Lawler Leeds in some of the gay parties aboard the Stillman yacht, Modesty, it was said.

No attempt will be made to connect Peggy's name with that of Stillman. The witness who is expected to furnish this testimony is Frank Murphy, former steward on the "Modesty."

No Arrests Yet in Whiskey Cases

Fargo, June 24—United States District Attorney Hildreth who yesterday announced a number of warrants had been issued to round up cases of whiskey runners and automobile thieves said that no arrests had been made yet today. He declined to say how many had been "laid." The roundup will be one of the largest in the northwest this year, he said.

TROOP TRAIN IS WRECKED BY SINN FEINERS, 40 KILLED

MANY SOLDIERS WERE INJURED—MINE WAS EXPLODED UNDER TRACK

(By United Press)

Belfast, Ireland, June 24—Two British soldiers were killed near here today when Sinn Feiners mined a railroad and derailed a troop train, according to latest reports.

First reports reaching here over crippled wires placed the death list at forty. It was learned later that the total casualty list was forty including thirty-eight injured.

Belfast, Ireland, June 24—Forty British soldiers were reported killed near here today when a troop train was derailed by Sinn Feiners.

Many soldiers were said to have been injured. Some meagre details received here said the train was mined. The last of the string of three troop trains was derailed.

Sinn Feiners cut telegraph wires and isolated the scene of the wreck. Plotters picked the time when thousands of soldiers sent here to guard the king and queen during the opening of parliament were being returned to their camps.

The first of the two trains went through in safety. Apparently the mine exploded after the first two trains had passed. The third train rushed into the opening and was badly wrecked, many soldiers being instantly killed. Brief dispatches here did not say whether the Sinn Feiners remained by to fire on their victims.

Officials Searching for Clues of Mystery of Missing Ships

RUSSELL BROWNING

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 24—A clue which may reveal the fate of at least one of the twenty "vanished ships," was being followed by government investigators today.

A colored postcard mailed from Paris to the mother of a member of the crew of one of the vessels that disappeared in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras, constitutes the bit of evidence. The mother says the writing is that of her son.

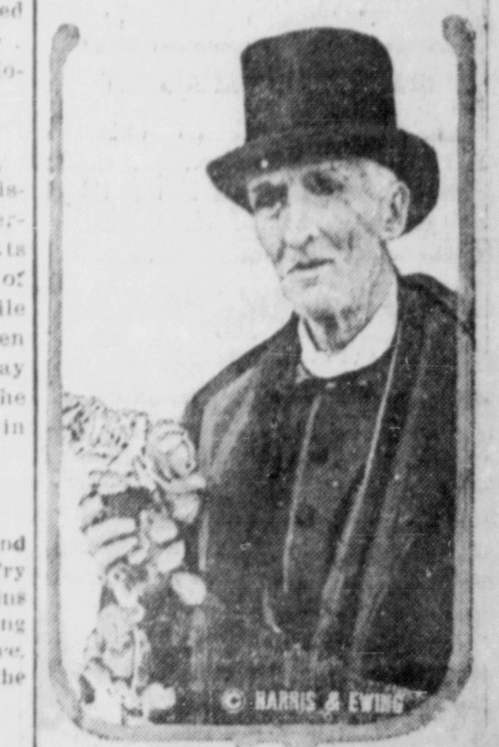

Investigators today refused to reveal the name of the man supposed to have sent the postcard, and asked that the name of the vanished vessel be withheld for the time being at least.

Officials pointed out that the postcard may have been mailed by someone other than the missing sailor and signed with his name. They probably will get Paris police to aid in their investigation.

MORE PROTECTION
FOR GAME BIRDS

BILL INTRODUCED IN SENATE
AND HOUSE BY MESSRS. NEW AND ANTHONY.

REQUIRES SHOOTING LICENSE

Measure Also Would Establish Shooting Grounds for the Public and Breeding Grounds and Game Refuges in Certain Marshy Areas.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—Sportsmen, bird protectors and agriculturists throughout the country probably will be interested in a bill known as the "public shooting ground and game refuge bill," which has been introduced simultaneously in the senate and the house by Senator New of Indiana and by Representative Anthony of Kansas.

This bill provides for the establishment of shooting grounds for the public, for establishing game refuges and breeding grounds, for protecting migratory birds and for requiring federal licenses to hunt them.

It is known, of course, to men who like to hunt game birds in season, that under the terms of a convention between the United States and Canada certain restrictions already have been placed upon the killing of migratory birds. Spring shooting has been abolished and other protective measures are in force.

One of the results of this treaty has been to increase the migratory game supply of the United States and to insure that posterity may have saved for it a food reserve of great economic value, and also have the privilege of hunting, a privilege that it would not have had if things had gone on in the same old game-slaughtering way.

The enforcement of the provisions of the law under the treaty has been vested in officials of government. Dr. E. W. Nelson of the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture and some of his associates are the direct force in the matter.

Existing Law Not Sufficient.

It has been shown that the marsh lands of the United States are being so rapidly drained and resting places and breeding places for certain kinds of migratory game are being reclaimed so fast that in time there will be few feeding, breeding and dropping-in places for ducks, geese and waders on their journeyings.

There is trouble in the way of the continued enforcement of the treaty law. The money available for the employment of federal wardens is not sufficient to meet the expenses and to insure adequate enforcement of the statutes. The bill which Senator New and Representative Anthony have introduced provides for a $1 federal license fee from every hunter. This, it is known, will give the government enough money to carry out the provisions of the laws governing the shooting and the protection of migratory birds.

Messrs. New and Anthony are very much interested in the bills which they have introduced. It is said that a good deal of the marsh land which has been drained in various parts of the United States, thus depriving certain species of birds of their natural resorts, proves to be valueless for agricultural purposes after the draining.

Certain constituents of the soil have rendered it unfit for agricultural purposes and the land becomes waste. It is proposed to determine what marsh lands will be of no service after draining and have the government purchase them or rent them for game refuges. The money derived from the small license fee, it is expected, will cover all the costs in the case.

Measure Generally Indorsed.

Game protective associations have indorsed the measure and it has received the indorsement, as well, of the elements in the community naturally interested in the conservation of the wild life which furnishes not only sport but also food supply to the people of the land. The American Game Protective association of New York has declared that this is the most effective and most acceptable piece of game legislation ever introduced, and then the association adds: "When this bill is enacted into law wild fowl shooting will be perpetuated for all time."

To give an idea of the extent of the shooting of wild fowl each fall, it is said that in Minnesota, where each hunter is compelled under the law to turn in the number of game birds that he has killed, and also the species, 1,800,000 game birds were killed in the one open season of three and a half months of the year 1919. It readily can be seen from this how much care must be taken not only to protect the breeding places of wild birds, but to see to it that they have a sufficient number of them in order that there may be a supply of game for the future.

KINDERGARTEN IN CITY

Miss Grace Drexler, Graduate of Valley City State Normal, Conducting Classes

Miss Grace Drexler, who has charge of the private kindergarten in Brainerd this summer, held her first session Monday morning.

Miss Drexler was graduated from the advanced kindergarten course of Valley City State Normal in 1919. Since then she has been teaching kindergarten at Buhl, Minnesota on the Mesaba iron range. It is thought that with her training and experience she will be able to give children of kindergarten age a beneficial course, preparatory to entering the first grade.

A large enrollment has not as yet been attained but children may be entered any time this week or next.

To Entertain Club

Mrs. W. M. Bersley will entertain the ladies club at Hubert on Wednesday afternoon.

Cossette-Jensen

Miss Irene Laura Cossette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cossette and Christian Jensen were married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vanek in the presence of relatives and friends, Rev. Elov G. Carlson officiating.

"O Promise Me" was sung, followed by Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Mabel Rosenberg. Evelyn Vanek carried the ring.

The bridal couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vanek. The bride was very pretty in blue champagne and carried a bouquet of roses.

Light refreshments were served. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Searles of Northome. The bridal couple, after a short honeymoon will make Brainerd their home.

New Rain-Making Idea.

To Canadians goes the distinction of proposing one of the strangest uses ever conceived for an airplane. Winnipeg men are reported to be organizing an aerial irrigation company. The aim is to cause rain by spraying liquid air in the clouds from an airplane, thus causing the moisture to condense. Recently dust was thrown from an airplane on the clouds 5,000 feet high in an unsuccessful attempt to cause rain in Pretoria.

To Save Mexican Forests.

Newspapers of Mexico City have taken up an active campaign to save the vast forests in the states of Puebla and Oaxaca, which, according to reports, are said to be suffering at the hands of the natives, who chop down and burn trees indiscriminately.

Travelers from these regions tell of finding natives using ebony and mahogany and other precious woods for fuel.

Unanimous Action.

"Do you have any trouble enforcing prohibition in Crimson Gulch?"

"None whatever," replied Three-Finger Sam. "If any of the boys is suspected of havin' any real liquor in his possession a dozen stout and courageous hands are ready to stretch forward and take it away from him by kindness if possible, but by force if necessary."

A Suitable Match.

"I guess I'll marry Johnny Jones when I get growed up," said little five-year-old Elizabeth one day.

"Do you really like him so much?" asked her mother.

"Oh, no," replied Elizabeth. "It isn't that; but he happens to like the same kind of candy I do."

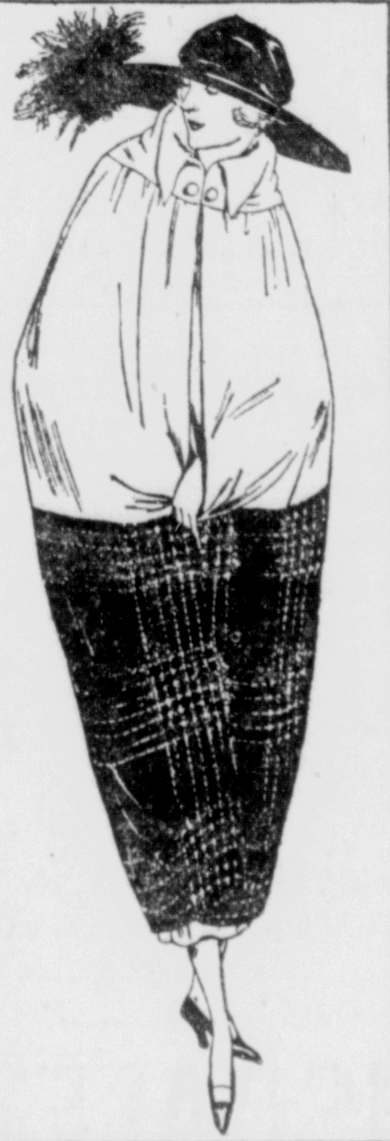

Oil of Jasmine.

Oil of jasmine is obtained from the Spanish jasmine, a hardy bush about three feet high that is cultivated in southern Europe. The oil is obtained by putting the blossoms of the plant between layers of oil-soaked cloth and allowing the oil to absorb their odor. The oil is pressed out, strained and purified into a delicate perfume called oil of jasmine.

Season for One-Piece Dress.

The season for the one-piece dress of serge has also arrived. When there is no cape or outer wrap then the street gown is of serge or the suit is of that or some other light material. The suits, when they are smartest, are quite plain, with long waist lines and with straight lines that are nevertheless fitted to follow the lines of the figure with a delicate nicety. They are worn with trim little hats and with blouses that, while they are mostly plain, are still made with quantities of handwork and a sufficient number of frills to make them becoming.

The serge dresses are made on the simplest of lines. Really they have the slightest amount of fit and the smallest amount of material to make them notable. But they are apt to be embroidered in some way or trimmed with little facings or edgings

The Midsummer Cape.

In some bright color of silk or silk braid that gives them that fresh chic which makes them notable. There are serge and worn with big black or dark blue hats, and then there are the popular little street dresses, made of a light, say gray, upper section, and a lower section of the black or dark blue, a narrow belt of the darker tone being used to hold them to a semblance of form about the waist line.

Evening dresses have their predilection for gray, and when it is not exactly gray then those tones of mauve and light blue creep in and become that shading between gray and some more vivid color when one is not sure under the night lights exactly what the tone may be. There are layers and layers of chiffon about these simple little evening frocks, and sometimes many shades of the same color and combined in such a subtle manner that one is not sure where one tone leaves off and the other begins. The skirts are made in a succession of frills or in an arrangement of petal formations so that they become just soft masses of the becoming material. And as for trimming, there is none, or perhaps it is but a band of ribbon about the waist line or a bunch of artificial flowers—just tiny little flowers. The bodices are simply finished by edgings of plecting, and the more often than not there are no sleeves at all.

Evening Gowns of Tulle.

As always at this time of the year, there are any number of tulle evening gowns to be seen. This season it is the real silk net, and the colors are the most beautiful that have been seen in a long while. They are made up over foundations of chiffon, while underlying slips are often done in a contrasting color to provide a variance of tone.

Then there are the dyed laces for evening gowns that are being worn a great deal. They are combined either with tulle or with chiffon and sometimes with cotton net, but always the material and the trimming seem to have been dipped in the same dye solution, for there is not a whit of divergence between their shades. There is the popular frock that is made with a skirt covered with dyed lace ruffings and with the plain little bodice made of chiffon in the same tone. Then there is another model that has a skirt made entirely of plaited tulle flounces and a bodice made of the dyed lace draped or fitted as the individual figure may demand.

The dresses that are coming along, the ones that the smart dressmakers are showing for wear a little later in the season, are those of taffeta with trimmings of lace or organdie. These are the frocks that will be so good for street wear when the wearer becomes too hot for a wrap of any sort. The satisfactory for afternoon wear, for they retain a freshness of line and contour that is always pleasing. In Paris at the Longchamps races there were displayed a number of taffeta dresses of this sort with very full skirts, sometimes ruffled over their entire surfaces.

One Mosquito's Work.

A single malarial patient, driving along a ditch-bordered, mosquito-infested road, may provide hundreds of the insects with germs which they may pass on to every traveler along that road, says the New York Medical Journal.

Corns

A corn on the toe, on the bottom of the foot, or in between the toes, suggests its own agonizing power. Corns can be relieved, corns can be removed. Our advice is to try our corn cure in preference to any other.

Tired Feet

Dust our foot powder in the shoes and in the stockings, and tired, aching, sweaty feet will find almost immediate relief. A rapid, efficient idea, and well worth trying.

Farm Implement of Value.
Our word hoe, in the French "houe," has its root in the verb to hew or to cut, and so the implement designed for stirring up the soil, cutting weeds, and singling out turnips and other root crops is called the hoe. Horse-drawn implements with adjustable tongues like cultivators, have been called horse-hoes, but they are hoes only in name. The true hoe is the blade with a handle at right angle, wielded by a man's two hands. It is the friend of true farming—of mixed farming, at any rate. The brighter the hoes on a farm, the fewer the weeds that go to seed.

First Nunnery Founded in France.
The first nunnery in Europe was established in France. St. Marcellina, sister of St. Martin, is credited with having created the first of these institutions in 390 A. D. Some historians claim that Germany was next in line, but according to the best authorities it was England that sanctioned the establishment of Europe's second nunnery. This edifice was erected at Folkestone by Edwald, king of Kent, in 630.

RHODA ROYAL CIRCUS
Great Attraction in Brainerd On July 4th, Circus to Be at White Park
Members of the Elks Lodge who are bringing the Rhoda Royal circus to Brainerd on July Fourth want everybody to know that the affair is not a carnival. Its a real, traveling circus, hauled from city to city on fifteen cars and given in big tents that seat several thousands of people.
Mr. Royal, who is the proprietor of the show, is an old time circus man and for years was connected with Ringling Brothers as director of the arena. He is a member of the Baraboo, Wis. Elks and is giving the local Elks a large portion of the gross receipts which will be used to for their building fund.
Elks are busy selling tickets for the two performance of the circus. They expect to crowd the tents and, if two performances will not hold the visitors they have Mr. Royal's assurance that he will give an extra performance, if necessary, to accommodate ticket holders.
The circus tents will be erected on the White Park grounds and a big free street parade will given. All the wonders of the circus will be shown in this pageant. There will be three bands, a calliope, elephants, camels, open cages of animals, broad backed horses, a wild west section, ponies and lots of mounted people, together with a score of funny clowns.

AMUSEMENTS
At the New Park Today and Tomorrow
Motion picture devotees are coming to learn that dogs are wonderful motion picture actors. Some of the most effective bits of play in many of the screen's biggest productions have been done by canine players, in fact a photodrama has just been completed under the direction of Norman Dawn in which dogs are the only actors.
One of the most touching scenes in "The Right to Happiness," the latest big starring vehicle for Dorothy Phillips, which is to be shown at the New Park theatre today, is the rescue of a baby by a big Russian wolf-hound, a handsome, intelligent fellow, too, by the way.
The incident occurs early in the picture where the palatial home of an American millionaire in Russia has been set afire by Russian Cosacks during a pogrom against the Jewish element. In the house are two little girls. The nurse hides one of the babes in a big box and the other in a huge oven. The dog remains in the house until the fire has gained much headway, trying to rescue his little playmate, whom he knows has been concealed in the oven.
Every movement of the dog in his successful attempt to open the poisonous door is plainly shown on the screen. After opening the door the dog leads the child through the blazing rooms to safety.
J. Warren Kerrigan's
J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brainerd production, "The House of Whispers," a gripping mystery play by the well-known novelist and playwright, William Johnson, and will be shown Saturday at the Lyceum theatre.
"The House of Whispers" is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures Kerrigan has produced in years and is excellently adapted to his virile, romantic type. He is seen in the role of an adventure loving young club

EVERY cent you spend over the price of Calumet might as well be thrown away. You don't get a thing for it. You can't get greater leavening strength or greater purity than are offered in Calumet.

It is made in the world's largest, best equipped and most sanitary Baking Powder Factories.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Food Authorities.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

BEST BY TEST MAKES MOST PALATABLE AND SWEETEST OF FOODS

No matter what you pay you can't secure as much in sound baking powder quality.

On the other hand—you can buy a cheaper baking powder—a little lower in price than Calumet—and much lower in merit. That's the worst kind of false economy.

Calumet never fails. Every baking is perfectly raised—sweet, even and tasty.

Used by millions of housewives and is the largest selling brand in the world.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Graham Muffin Recipe

1 cup of white flour,

1 cup Graham flour,

1 tablespoon sugar,

3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup of milk, 1 egg well beaten, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Then mix in the regular way.

COUNTY PICNIC A HUGE SUCCESS

Michael Marea of Arrangements Committee Figures Attendance Was at Least 7,000

1600 CARS, 20 FARM BUGGIES

All-County Community Picnic Simply Took Possession of All of Grand View Lodge

There have been all-county community picnics at Bay Lake and at Lum Park in Brainerd, but never in all the history of agriculture in Crow Wing county was there such a crowd assembled at a picnic as on Thursday, June 23, at Grand View Lodge on Gull lake.

Michael Marea of Gull lake, member of the general arrangement committee, estimated the entire attendance as at least 7,000 people. The cars, he said, in round numbers totaled 1,600 and the horse drawn wagons and buggies numbered 20. There were Fords there which carried as high as ten people. Several hayracks came in carrying loads of 25 or more children.

Whole communities attended the picnic. Brainerd was deserted and tourists asked what had happened to the town. Every bit of space was utilized to park cars. There was a solid line, double and triple rows from the entrance to the big Grand View hotel and on the beach and beyond. Late comers had to do some expert driving to get a place to park. And when the huge mass of cars untangled to get home it produced a procession of cars extending from picnic grounds to Brainerd. All through the day there was a stream driving to the grounds and others driving back. In the evening many of the shopmen of Brainerd and their families turned to the picnic.

The general arrangements committee Michael Marea, County Commissioner Edward Boppel and County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth were all smiles over the success of the picnic. Nothing marred the success of the picnic. Everything in the lengthy program moved with precision and speed.

Speaking at Picnic

Michael Marea presided and opened the speaking program with a short address welcoming all to picnic and then extolled the art of agriculture and the benefits of true cooperation. It was by working together to one definite end that communities were best able to accomplish results.

The response for towns and cities was made by Francis B. Randall, secretary of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce and his talk was well received.

County Agent E. G. Roth gave a response for the farm bureau clubs and units.

E. E. Ellis of Long Lake township gave a solo on a novel instrument, a piano-accoridian.

G. A. Lundquist of the University of Minnesota, well known to Brainerd audiences, gave a thoughtful address which was well received.

The Sports Program

ef tahr go hTeech eTete ml tml o hT The committee in charge of the farm bureau picnic sports was L. B. Kinder, chairman; Field Manager John A. Thabes, Jr.; Judges S. R. Adair, E. C. Arehild, O. J. Bouma, Record Keeper J. Alton.

Bread Baking Contest

In the bread baking contest: First prize of $5 to Mrs. Henry Krause of Brainerd; second prize of $3 to Mrs. O. N. Olson of Brainerd.

During the day there were amusements of all kinds. Chief of these was the dancing, a free dance being given from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Dancing in the evening continued from 8:30 to midnight. Palmer's orchestra of Brainerd played.

The Brainerd Municipal band had its station on the lake front and rendered its finest selections. It played for the formal program and throughout the day.

There was boating, bathing, picnicking, etc. The steamer "Queen" made regular trips around the lake and was well patronized.

Thanks Given

In his address Michael Marea acknowledged the cooperation and courtesy of the business and professional men of Brainerd, Nisswa and Pequot in making the picnic a success. It was their contributions which financed the large prize list.

The man with the biggest family seems to have missed a prize of the thermos bottle donated for him. So far no record has been found of him.

TERM OF DISTRICT COURT HEAVY ONE

Over Twenty Jury Verdicts, Also a Large Number of Cases Settled Out of Court

JUDGE B. F. WRIGHT PRESIDING

Litigants in Many Cases Come to an Amicable Agreement Without Warring in Court

The present term of the district court has been a strenuous one for Judge B. F. Wright of Park Rapids. Jury verdicts recorded number at least twenty. Then there were a large number of cases settled out of court or settled shortly after the machinery of jury selection had been started.

In one of the last jury cases heard this was exemplified. The two parties to the suit had completed selection of the jury and it had been sworn and the lawyer C. A. Ryan, for the plaintiff, had made his opening statement, when the judge questioned both parties and found there were but a few points in dispute. The parties retired for discussion, an agreement was quickly reached and to the judge was left two questions, which he decided, and the case was marked settled and the jury dismissed.

Judge Wright is known throughout the state as a most conscientious judge. He was recently called to St. Paul to assist judges there who were overwhelmed with a flood of divorce cases.

Uncle Sam Demands His Share From The Moonshine Business—Receive Notices (Staples World)

The chickens of some of the illicit manufacturers of moonshine are beginning to come home to roost in a way that was doubtless little dreamed. Uncle Sam has figured that he is entitled to his share of profits in the business and is the sole judge as to the amount that is due him. To those who have been found guilty of moonshine he sends a notice of the amount that he wants and it has to be forthcoming. Otherwise the guilty person's property will be taken to square the account, and there is no possible way of getting around it.

It is stated that Geo. Larson, living south of town, has received notice that $2,000 the amount he must pay. Others in Todd county who have so far been assessed are Frank Lucas of Browerville, $1,371.73; Chas. Larson of Browerville, $1,583.33. Lois Bolt of Dilworth has to pay $4,041.40.

DISARMAMENT, IT IS BELIEVED IN WASHINGTON, MUST BE
BY AGREEMENT OF ALL.

AMERICA'S 'FEELERS' ARE OUT

Replies to Secretary Hughes' Informal Inquiries Eagerly Awaited—Meanwhile Man Is Busily Devising New Weapons of Warfare.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—It is apparent that the administration believes disarmament depends upon "the other fellow." Judging from the temper of congress, and from the editorial expressions of the newspapers of the country, there is a fixed belief that disarmament and agreement must be companioned; in other words, that the nations together must disarm if great navies and great armies are to be cast away.

It is believed in Washington that as soon as the Borch resolution calling for a naval disarmament conference between the United States, Great Britain and Japan was introduced, the President called on the state department to feel out not only Great Britain and Japan on the subject, but other great nations as well. It is probable that before long Secretary of State Hughes will have something definite to report to the President on the matter.

There is recognition in official circles in Washington of the fact that the United States is divided into two camps on the subject of disarmament;
one of them, the larger camp, being that of what the officials call the rationals, and the other, the smaller but still powerful camp, of what they call the irrationals. The rationals, according to the Washington viewpoint, are those who want disarmament to come by agreement among the nations of the world. The so-called irrationals are those who want the United States
to scrap its navy and disarm its army, no matter what the other nations may do. This course naturally would leave this country open to any possible enemy who thought that the time had not yet come to throw its rifles on the scrap pile.

Making New Warfare Implements.
In the meantime man everywhere is traveling along the lines of invention of new implements of warfare, or of those which lead into the field of the making of implements which will render present implements of warfare obsolete.

Within a short time there will be an attempt on the part of the air service of the United States army to prove that airplanes quickly can put battleships out of commission, and therefore that hereafter the whole course of naval construction must be changed.
The navy officers say that their ships can keep out of the way of all the airplanes, and not only this, but with guns on their own decks they can prevent the approach of the air hawks.
Moreover, they say that planes launched from their decks can help in the work of keeping the air enemy at a distance.

At the time of the other experiments
the chemical warfare service will try to prove that its weapons are just as effective against ships as they are against land forces. An attack on the ships will be made from the air and nonpoisonous gases will be dropped in shells onto the vessels' decks.
The gas will have a penetrating power and it is the claim of one branch of the service that the ships will be rendered uninhabitable after a few fusillades of gas bombs.

Over in Europe, it is said, a man has invented a rifle, very little heavier than the ordinary small-caliber rifle of today, that will shoot a granade a mile with accurate aim and that of course the grenade, on exploding, will cause about ten or fifteen times
as much damage as a bullet from a rifle possibly could do.

Awaiting Replies to "Feelers."

So it is easy enough to see that,
while disarmament is being discussed,
the nations of the world are not staying their hands from the work of inventing new and deadly contrivances to put their fellow men, who happen to belong to other countries, out of the running. The recognition apparently is complete in all countries that, if disarmament is to be a fact and the invention of new and more deadly weapons of war is to be brought to a standstill, there must be complete agreement among all the powerful nations to disarm and to check the inventors in their work.

Washington is awaiting with intense interest the replies to the disarmament
"feelers" which the State department has put out. There have been hints from various sources that Great Britain and Japan may be willing to sit at a disarmament conference, and of course it is known that, if these nations agree, others probably will be willing to agree. A disarmament conference would be in the highest sense a peace conference, for, if real disarmament comes, the nations that want to fight will have to do it with stones, clubs or fists, and such scraps are not particularly deadly.

Seriously speaking, no one believes that there ever will be complete disarmament, or certainly not until a day resembling millennium day shall dawn.
It is recognized that the various countries must maintain forces sufficient to maintain internal peace.

WAR CRAFTERS
TO BE RUN DOWN

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE
GOING AFTER PROFITEERS
ON THE GOVERNMENT

THOROUGH INQUIRY PLANNED

Former Service Men Would Like to See Prosecution of the Petty Robbers Who Preyed Especially on Young Commissioned Officers.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—The attorney general's office has announced that there will be an investigation of war profiteers going after the government, that it intends to make the inquiry thorough and to bring punishment down on the guilty.

The attorney general, in connection with this matter, has said: "The government is not going after the little fellows. We can afford to throw the minnows back and let them start over again. It is the big fellows that we are after and expect to get."

No one, of course, can tell whether the investigation will result in discovering proofs of guilt and in the conviction of the guilty. It is said that about only one government investigation
in five ever produces real results, but this in a general way may be put down to the fact that the government,
especially the congressional part of it, has the investigating habit fixed, and is given to ordering inquiries into this matter and the other matter without much regard to the strength of the initial facts in the case.

This comment has little to do with such matters as criminal investigations. They always are in order and they may produce results. In the case of the proposed inquiry the matters to be gone into relate to deliberate overcharges to the government for supplies furnished when the war was on.

The war profiteers are the hated element in the community. The ex-soldiers particularly hate them. They have been made for two or three years the subject of pointed criticism, of sharp resentment, and of that kind of contempt which is meted out to only the meanest of men.

Others Who Are More Despicable.

The grafters on the government during the war were high scale robbers, but, as the expression goes, they were not in it in meanness with the profiteers who preyed directly on the people, and particularly on men who were going to give up good paying places to enter one or the other of the armed services of the country.

There are some thousands of ex-
soldiers who would hold a jubilation
as hearty as the one which followed the armistice if some of the cheap criminals who grafted on them would be made the object of government investigation and of subsequent punishment.

The volunteer and drafted enlisted men of the war were to a certain extent protected from the grafters of the market places, certainly protected so far as the purchase of the actual necessaries of life were concerned, but the young men who were fortunate or unfortunate enough to be given commissions were the sufferers in the cause of patriotism at the beaks of the buzzards.

The young fellows who were commissioned were obliged to buy their uniforms. They would go into a store and buy blouse and breeches, paying therefor about twice their value. It is true that if they had exercised proper judgment and had had plenty of time on their hands they might have looked about a bit and secured something from an honest merchant at a proper price, but when men were commissioned one day, and ordered to join their outfit two days thereafter, they did not have time to hunt bargains.

Of course the people generally suffered from this kind of profiteering,
but it was essentially mean when it made victims of the young fellows who were sacrificing good civil life pay for small pay in a service which might mean death.

Profiteering on Army Supplies.

It is said that hundreds of millions of dollars were lost to the government through the profiteering on army supplies on the part of some of the contractors. Other contractors, to their everlasting credit, were essentially honest and essentially decent. It is taken for granted in Washington that those who were honest, but who knew of the dishonesty that went on about them, will be willing to tell the government what they know. This is about one of the easiest ways, probably, of getting at the truth in the matter.

Some of the profiteers will not have any money to give back to the government, if by any course of law they can be sent out to do so.

however, can be taken into custody and they may be made to suffer personally, if not in pocket, for fraud carries a prison sentence as its penalty.

Many of the war-time profiteers were true get-rich-quick men. They were dishonest in intention and, having a certain small shrewdness, they made their money fast and a great many of them spent it just as fast,
and perhaps faster than they took it in. It is said that some of them have their hands out today, but it is more likely they are watching for a chance to put their hands in.

Airplane Caught Train.
An automobile and an airplane were recently pressed into emergency service by a dining car conductor, W.
Shields, on train No. 49 of the Southern Pacific, running from Los Angeles, Cal., to San Francisco, when his train left him at Fresno. A chase of two miles in an automobile was a failure, and Shields, seeing an airplane preparing to ascend from a nearby field, hurried over and explained his predicament to the pilot.
The race ended at Chowchilla, where the train stopped and Shields climbed aboard.

Tempered Copper.
Tempered or elastic copper is produced in the process patented by S.
O. Coxper-Coles by deposition from a sulphate solution on a rotating cathode having a peripheral speed of 1,000 feet or more per minute. To add to the hardness, the speed is increased,
or some material is added, such as 0.1
per cent of glue or gelatin, or 1 ounce of arsenic to 10 gallons of 12 per cent free sulphuric acid. The arsenic may be introduced in the form of oxide dissolved in a 10 per cent solution of caustic soda.

When a man's wife says, "Now, you listen to me!" the proverb is about to be exemplified that "listeners never hear any good of themselves."—Bos-

SALTS IN HOT WATER
CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says We Must Make Kidneys Clean
The Iod and Pimples Disappear

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine,
but in many instances the bowels
create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter
the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless
and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effective drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Patience.

The need for heroism in our daily lives may seem to be small, but surely calls for patience are numerous enough, patience with slow-moving circumstances, with the brother who does not see truth as we see it, with the unreasonable people who must be managed, if they are to go forward at all. Last, most important of all, we need patience with our blundering, easily discouraged selves. After all,
it may be that from a greater height
and clearer vision than ours, patience itself may show as a heroic virtue.
